Clin-IQ FAQs

1. WHAT is Clin-IQ?
   A scholarly activity process that can be adapted and implemented with learners at many levels of clinical education training.

2. WHY consider Clin-IQ? Clin-IQ process
   - Meets all ACGME Residency Review Committee scholarly activity requirements, and those of many other clinical disciplines.
   - Increases scholarly activities and productivity for faculty and trainees.
   - No IRB required.
   - Creates a clinical learning community between disciplines and specialties, in academic and community settings across Oklahoma and beyond state borders.
   - Involves all members of learning community in translating clinical research into clinical practice to improve overall health.

3. WHO participates in Clin-IQ?
   a. academic faculty,
   b. community-based faculty,
   c. trainees at all levels of clinical education, and
   d. practicing community clinicians of all disciplines and specialties.

4. HOW does Clin-IQ work?
   a. Identify a Clin-IQ Champion.
   b. START SMALL.
   c. Consult with medical reference librarian.
   d. Begin with a well-built clinical PICO question.